May 10, 2005

Bristol-Myers Squibb is experiencing a supply shortage of BiCNU® (carmustine for injection). Bristol-Myers Squibb is working aggressively with our suppliers to resolve the situation. The Company will communicate when product is available.

Bristol-Myers Squibb will allocate the current limited supply of BiCNU to patients who have already begun a BiCNU regimen. During this supply shortage, the Company is encouraging physicians and healthcare providers to use alternative treatment approaches when possible.

For further information on how to obtain BiCNU, please contact Bristol-Myers Squibb at 1-800-631-5244, option 1.
